

An Inviting Possibility

Invitations set the tone for your big day. Will it be elegant, fun or funky — your guests should be able to tell by what your invitations look like. And now you can really get personal by making the invitations (and save-the-date cards, etc.) yourselves. Talk, Paper, Scissors in Manchester (www.talkpaperscissors.com) provides custom invitation design services that allow you to get unique, handmade invitations at a reasonable cost.

You can work directly with an experienced designer to put together a creative and tailored layout. Then, you can have a sample created so you'll know exactly what the final version will look like.

You can save money — by assembling the invitations yourself — or save time — by having Talk, Paper, Scissors assemble them for you.

Invite your friends for an invitation-making party. With lots of table space, upbeat music and complimentary beverages that Talk, Paper, Scissors offers, you can hang out with your friends and at the same time check one job off your list of things to do.
